++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Heavy showers will move eastwards across southern counties through the day.
Persistent, at times heavy rain will linger across northern England and north Wales, with risk of localised flooding. Elsewhere, often cloudy with some showery outbreaks at times. Windy in the north and west.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Windy and largely cloudy on Tuesday, with showery rain at times, but becoming brighter in the west later. Feeling chilly in the breeze. Showers becoming largely confined to the east on Wednesday, wintry over hills. Turning colder with overnight frost and the risk of some icy patches.
