++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Rain clearing the southeast early on tomorrow, leaving a day of sunshine and showers with some locally heavy and thundery showers developing, especially across northern parts of England and Wales. Feeling cooler than of late, especially in the brisk northwest wind.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Rather cloudy and unsettled on Wednesday with bands of rain moving southeast across the UK. The rain will be mainly light in the south with some spells of brightness developing here. Thursday will see largely dry but rather cloudy conditions across England and Wales. Elsewhere seeing outbreaks of rain, perhaps turning heavy and persistent at times towards the northwest.
