Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Showers will affect mainly western areas of Scotland throughout the day, but they will become heavy and more widespread at times. It remains very windy, especially in the north and west. Elsewhere, it remains drier with only scattered showers expected, these mainly in Northern Ireland, Wales and western England.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Mostly dry and bright on Tuesday morning but becoming cloudier with strong winds and heavy rain spreading into northwestern parts of the UK, especially Scotland and Northern Ireland. England and Wales will be largely dry but rather cloudy on Wednesday, but showers are likely elsewhere. Remaining windy in the north.
