++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Snow will continue across much of northern Scotland, with rain or sleet around most coastal fringes. Rain over south Wales and southern and central England will gradually move across to northern and eastern England, with the south and west becoming drier.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Mostly dry, bright but cold in the far north on Saturday, with showers or longer outbreaks of rain for most other areas. Wet and very wind conditions are expected over much of England and Wales on Sunday, but with the north bright and cold, with mainly coastal wintry showers.
