Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Mist and fog patches mainly affecting central areas will clear during the morning with most of the UK then having a dry day with bright or sunny spells. Northwest Scotland will however be mostly cloudy with a little rain. Temperatures a degree or two lower than on Saturday with generally light winds.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

An area of light rain moving south during Monday with showers following into the North. The rain not reaching the south until the evening where there will be sunny spells. Tuesday dry with sunny spells for most parts but cloudy and breezy over northern Scotland with rain later.
