Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A mainly cloudy morning across the bulk of the UK, with a few spots of light rain or drizzle across the midlands and parts of Wales. Becoming brighter by the afternoon, but a few sharp showers may develop across southern parts of England. Winds remaining light through the day making it feel quite pleasant once again.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Plenty of dry, bright and warm weather is expected through much of the weekend. However, this is likely to become increasingly confined to central, southern and eastern parts of the country on Sunday as cloudier conditions with outbreaks of rain spread into the northwest.
