++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a wet morning across central and southern parts with heavy rain at times and brisk winds. Elsewhere, it will be drier with some brightness and only scattered showers. Through the day, winds will ease for most areas as the rain clears from the country, with a dry and bright end to the day.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

For many Tuesday will be dry with sunny spells but it will be cloudier and breezy across northwestern areas with showery rain at times. Despite further bright or sunny spells on Wednesday, there will be showers or longer spells of rain in places.
