++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Today will be breezy and cool with sunshine and blustery showers, some of which will be heavy. One or two rumbles of thunder are possible. Longer spells of rain and stronger winds will affect northern Scotland later. During the night, a band of frequent blustery showers will move from northern into southern Scotland, and later into northern England and Wales.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Friday will be a similar cool and breezy day to Thursday with sunshine and blustery showers. Not everyone will get the showers, but where we do, there will be a risk of thunder. Further heavy showers are likely on Saturday.
