++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sunny spells and showers, sometimes heavy and thundery, most frequent around western and southern coasts, but possibly merging to give a longer spell of rain for southern Scotland and northern England into the afternoon. Showers could be wintry over hills, especially in the north. Breezy, but especially windy for Northern Ireland and southern Scotland.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:
Rather cold and breezy this weekend, with bright spells and heavy showers, perhaps with hail and thunder. The showers are likely to be wintry over hills in the north and west, and a risk of overnight frost. Possibly a little drier in the southeast on Sunday.
