Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Much of the UK will see a fine, dry day with spells of pleasantly warm sunshine, especially across central and western areas. Eastern coastal counties will likely see cloudier conditions, with a few showers drifting ashore in the cool northerly breeze.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

With high pressure remaining in charge into the middle part of the week, plenty of fine and dry weather can be expected. Cloud amounts will vary, though some sunny spells are likely on both Tuesday and Wednesday. By Wednesday, we will have also lost the northerly breeze and as such, temperatures should start to climb.
