Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A much brighter and colder day for many on Friday with some sunshine, though still with a cold breeze, particularly in eastern parts where there could be gales for a time. Any showers should also slowly die out. Turning cloudier later over Scotland with some rain, mainly in western parts.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Southwestern parts fine on Saturday, but rather cloudy at times. Northern and eastern parts of the country are likely to be cloudy and wet. On Sunday, showery rain is likely to spread south followed again by cooler and brighter weather.
