Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
In England and Wales, early fog patches may linger, although otherwise it will stay mainly dry with a good deal of cloud, along with just a few sunny intervals.
Meanwhile in Scotland and Northern Ireland, any early rain in Shetland will move away leaving a mostly dry start with early fog patches lifting. Some hazy sunshine will develop before outbreaks of rain reaches all but parts of northern and eastern Scotland by early evening.
Most regions will feel less cold than today.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
It will be unsettled and rather windy at times with showers and longer outbreaks of rain.
