Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most places will have a dry and generally sunny day but with a keen easterly wind. Sea fog along the east coast of Scotland will clear during the afternoon and Southwest England and South Wales will again be cloudier with some showery rain. Highest temperatures in the west.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
All parts will stay dry with some good spells of sunshine. More cloud and a stronger breeze in the southwest but winds will generally ease during Wednesday. Still quite chilly overnight with some fog and a touch of grass frost in the north.
