Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Rain across Northern Ireland, Northern England and Southern Scotland will push north through the day, often heavy, and will reach the far north by evening. Elsewhere, brightness will develop but this may set off some heavy and possibly thundery showers. It will become very windy across southern parts with gales in places.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
The unsettled weather will continue into Wednesday with all areas seeing a mixture of sunshine and showers. It will often be windy making it feel cool for the time of year. Showers will ease through Thursday with lighter winds and more in the way of sunny spells developing.
