Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Overnight rain soon clearing southeast of England then a mixture of sunny spells and showers for all. The showers most frequent over northern and western coasts and hills at first but developing inland from late morning and into the afternoon. The showers often heavy with a risk of hail and thunder and wintry over northern hills. Feeling colder than recently.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Many places dry on Saturday morning with local ground frost in the east. Outbreaks of rain spreading steadily across northern Britain during Saturday, becoming heavy and persistent during Sunday as it extends southeastwards across remaining parts. Becoming windy but mild.
