++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most parts of the UK will have sunshine and frequent, blustery showers, these most frequent in the west where they may give hail and thunder at times. The brightest weather will be in the east of England. It will be windy for many with severe gales around coasts and hills in the west.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

It will remain unsettled but less stormy than of late, with coastal gales gradually easing. However, it will stay quite breezy and most places will see sunny spells and showers. There is also a risk of more persistent rain at times in the south of England.
