++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be frost and ice on untreated surfaces in many areas during the first half of the morning, especially in northeastern England. There will also be some patchy fog, but this will disperse to leave a mixture of sunshine and showers. Northeastern Scotland will however remain cloudy with outbreaks of rain, along with snow on the hills.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

On Saturday there will be a few showers in eastern England at first, but in general it will be dry with plenty of sunshine. On Sunday there will be cloud and rain over northwestern Scotland but it will be dry elsewhere.
