Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cloudy day across northwestern parts of the UK with occasional showers. However, there is likely to be some more persistent rain across northern England and southern Scotland at first and later across Northern Ireland and southwest Scotland. Towards the south and east of the UK it will be generally dry with good spells of warm sunshine.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

It is likely to be an unsettled weekend with outbreaks of rain reaching most parts. These will be heavy at times and there is likely to be a risk of thunder across southeast England during Saturday night and Sunday morning.
