Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It may start a little fresher than recent days, but for much of the day, tomorrow will be fine with plenty of sunshine and some hot temperatures towards the southeast. However, it is likely to turn cloudier later on ahead of some thunderly showers which will spread northwards overnight.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

The thunderly showers will persist across northern parts for much of Saturday whilst further south it should turn fine, with some further very warm or hot sunny breaks. Sunday is set to bring some more sunny spells, though it'll be a little cooler than of later with some showers likely too.
