

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Wednesday 06 Oct 2010

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Sunshine and showers for the west this morning; some thundery. Further east, persistent rain should clear towards lunchtime. Most areas will see sunshine later, but perhaps cloudier conditions with some blustery showers for the north and west. Overnight, showers continue, though becoming dry and clear for most. Fog is possible by dawn, especially in Wales and the Midlands.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday: bright for most after any fog clears, with occasional showers in the northwest until lunchtime and rain in southern England later. Friday: mostly dry, but perhaps rain in the northeast and southwest. Temperatures likely above normal, though windy towards the northwest.
