Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Another day of sunshine and showers is in store for much of the British Isles.
Once again some of the showers are likely to become heavy and thundery, and in lighter winds, could become slow moving, particularly in the north. Still rather cool for July.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Yet more showers on Wednesday, again some will be heavy and thundery. It may turn a little drier in the southwest later in the day. Thursday will probably be the driest day of the week, but it will cloud over later from the west with rain and strong winds overnight.
