Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Starting cloudy, some patchy rain affecting northern and eastern areas. Becoming mostly dry during the morning and brightening up with some sunny spells developing across central and southern parts during the afternoon. Temperatures near normal in the cloudier areas, but becoming rather warm in the sunnier spots. Windy for most with a risk of gales in exposed western areas, winds should slowly ease during the day.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Rather cloudy on Monday with some showers for Scotland and drizzle across southern England. Generally dry with sunny spells developing, especially in east on Tuesday. Temperatures around normal, but warm in sunnier spots.
