Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sunday will be largely dry with bright or hazy sunshine for many. However, it will be cloudier across the northwest of Scotland, with some outbreaks of rain. There will also be a few showers across parts of northwest England. It will feel fresher than of late. Turning cloudier with patchy rain and drizzle in the south later.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Monday and Tuesday will be dull, damp and cloudy with outbreaks of patchy light rain and drizzle at times, particularly across England and Wales. Brighter skies confined to the far north of Scotland. It will generally be mild, but less so than recently.
