Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Tuesday will be largely cloudy for most of the country. A band of rain and hill snow will move eastwards through the morning, becoming patchier as it does so. This will be heaviest over northern England and Scotland, with less widespread rain for the south of the country.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
An area of persistent rain and strong winds will move east across the country on Tuesday night and through Wednesday, bringing gales to south-western parts and hill snow to northern hills. Milder and cloudy weather with occasional sunny spells and outbreaks of light rain follows later on Wednesday and into Thursday.
