++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a miserable start in the southeast with heavy rain and strong winds around, particularly affecting the morning rush hour. Elsewhere, there will be a few brighter spells, particularly in the south, but also some heavy blustery showers with gales or severe gales returning especially in coastal areas in the west.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

It'll turn a little cooler with sunshine and showers on Friday again some will be heavy. There'll be fewer showers on Saturday with some places staying dry but on Sunday there's more rain and strong winds for much of Britain.
