

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Sunday 22 Jul 2012

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be a sunny and warm day for much of England and Wales, although northern parts will become breezy. Scotland and Northern Ireland, however, will become increasingly cloudy and windy with outbreaks of rain, particularly in western parts. This rain will spread steadily south, reaching northern England through the early hours. Elsewhere it will remain fine and dry.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

It will remain very warm and sunny across central and southern parts of England and Wales. It will also be largely fine but fresher across northern Scotland. Elsewhere, however, it will be cloudy, dull and damp with further outbreaks of rain.
