Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
After a cool start on Wednesday, it will be a fine day for many southern areas with spells of sunshine and lighter winds than today. Further north it is going to be breezier with a mixture of sunshine and showers.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
After a largely dry start in the south on Thursday, rain and strong winds in the northwest will edge across most parts through the day. This rain may turn heavy and at times persistent before clearing to the south early on Friday. It will then be windy with frequent heavy and perhaps thundery showers.
