++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Generally a rather cloudy day but with some bright and sunny spells, particularly in the south and east. Persistent and locally heavy rain will continue across northwest Scotland throughout the day. It will be windy in the north with gales in the northwest and it will be milder than of late.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

It will be increasingly windy across the UK with gales and persistent rain continuing across northwestern areas on Saturday. It will be mostly dry elsewhere with sunny spells for many. The rain will move southeast during Sunday but become lighter, with cooler and clearer conditions following from the north.
