Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Dry and sunny for most, with conditions becoming very warm or hot once again after localised mist patches clear early on. It will be somewhat cloudier in northern UK, although even here some sunny spells remain likely. The cloudier conditions may just produce the odd sharp shower over the Pennines, with these more likely later on.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Remaining dry, fine and very warm in many areas into the start of the new working week, although it is likely to be a little cloudier in the north. It will remain slightly cooler near coasts under the influence of sea breezes.
