

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Monday 02 Jul 2012

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Only the far northwest of Scotland and southeast of England will see any sunshine this morning, with the rest of the country shrouded in cloud. There will be outbreaks of rain in many areas, becoming heavy at times in the south.
Some thundery showers may develop, particularly over Northern Ireland.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Tuesday will be yet another cloudy day, with rain spreading to most areas through the course of the day, with some heavier bursts in the south. Once again the far north of Scotland will enjoy the best of any sun. Wednesday will see widespread showers, possibly thundery in central areas.

(C) Crown Copyright 2012. Published by the Met Office.