Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A band of cloud and rain, heavy at times, will move slowly eastwards across the United Kingdom tomorrow. Ahead of this it will be rather warm and humid, with the chance of some thundery downpours across southeast England and East Anglia during the afternoon. Brighter and fresher with showers for Northern Ireland and Scotland.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

It will be a changeable period, with a mixture of sunshine and showers, especially in the north and west, possibly heavy and thundery at times. Meanwhile, much of southern England and Wales should be largely dry with sunny spells. It will feel fresher than of late.
