

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Wednesday 01 Jun 2016

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It'll be mostly cloudy with outbreaks of patchy light rain across most of England and Wales, locally heavy in the southeast, and feeling cool with a strong north-easterly wind. Scotland and Northern Ireland will be dry with warm sunny spells. It will remain cloudy with patchy rain and drizzle across England and Wales tonight, with clear spells elsewhere.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Cloud and patchy rain will soon clear the south early on Thursday, then drier and brighter for many. Friday will be mostly dry and bright with sunny spells for most. However, there is the risk of a few showers in the south.

(C) Crown Copyright 2016. Published by the Met Office.