++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Southern parts will start sunny but also cold with a hard frost. The Midlands, Wales and Northern England will be cloudy with a little light sleet or snow. Scotland and Northern Ireland will also be cloudy with patchy rain. The sleet and snow will spread into Southern parts during the morning, but should die out later.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
England and Wales will be dry and bright with some sunshine, but also cold with overnight frost and fog, which will be slow to clear. Scotland and Northern Ireland will stay cloudy and breezy which should help to prevent overnight frosts.
