Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
After a chilly start, it will be a mostly fine and dry day. There will be plenty of bright or sunny spells across the country and it will feel pleasantly warm in the light winds. However, there may be the odd shower at times in the east.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

A band of rain will gradually push into north-western parts through the day on Monday, but it'll be dry elsewhere. Winds will also strengthen across the north. Tuesday will be a dry day for many, but it will be mostly cloudy with some patchy light rain across the south.
