++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A cloudy start in most areas but, for England, Wales and southern Scotland, there is a better chance than today of the cloud breaking to give some lengthy periods of sunshine later. Northern Scotland and Northern Ireland will see thicker cloud persisting but it will remain generally dry.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Tuesday morning will see patchy fog in central areas, but once that clears it will be another dry and bright day with sunny spells for most. On Wednesday, the majority of the country will turn cloudier, with outbreaks of rain or drizzle spreading northeast to reach most areas by evening.
