++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sunshine and scattered, briefly heavy showers across most parts, but more especially to the north and west of the UK with a chance of thunder here, and mainly dry with warm sunny spells to the south and east. Westerly winds will be a little fresher compared with today, carrying the showers swiftly eastward, but feeling warm in the sunshine.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Mostly dry and bright in the south and east during Thursday with light winds, but some thickening cloud and perhaps some rain in places further northwest. By Friday, wind and persistent rain will arrive in the west and spread gradually eastwards.
