Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Southern Britain generally cloudy with outbreaks of rain spreading west to east, heaviest in southwest England, only light and intermittent in the southeast. Elsewhere, a brighter day with some sunshine for many, but also a scattering of heavy showers developing once again.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

On Wednesday, a little rain in southern areas, but becoming drier through the day. Elsewhere, mostly dry with sunny periods. Thursday staying dry with variable amounts of cloud but some sunshine for most. Mist or low cloud lingering around southern coasts on both days. Becoming warm in most areas, but also starting to feel humid in the south.
