Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be another fairly wet day with rain in many areas, often heavy, but some eastern parts of the UK could stay dry. Clearer, cooler weather will follow to western and northern areas by the evening, along with a few showers in the northwest of the UK. It will be windy too, with southwesterly gales in exposed western parts.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Further spells of heavy rain and brisk winds are expected on Monday, but it will turn clearer with a few showers later on. More settled weather is likely on Tuesday with some sunshine, scattered showers, and a fresh westerly breeze.
