++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Some outbreaks of rain continuing across the far north of Scotland with some snow over the higher ground. Elsewhere, it will be a bright day with sunny spells and just a few showers in places. It will feel pleasantly warm in the generally light winds.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain across southern Britain on Wednesday slowly spreading north into central areas overnight and turning heavy. Northern areas will stay much drier with just a few showers, mainly towards northeast Scotland. Thursday will see heavy rain in the south spreading north, perhaps as far as southern Scotland as showers follow elsewhere.
