Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most places enjoying a taste of summer with plenty of dry and sunny weather, the best of the sunshine likely across southern and eastern areas. It will also feel very warm. More cloud across Scotland and Northern Ireland however with even a little drizzle but it should become brighter even here in the afternoon.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

A few potentially thundery showers may affect western parts on Thursday, and it will be cloudier here, but elsewhere another very warm and fine day is in store. A spell of rain across the south-west during Friday morning is expected to spread northeastwards through the day.
