Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A wet and windy start for many with rain and hill snow clearing most parts by mid afternoon, a risk of ice for a time first thing. Sunshine and showers then follow, turning wintry even to low levels, especially in the north, perhaps heavy at times.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Wednesday, wintry showers continuing at first, before another wet and windy spell of weather spreads from the southwest. Some snow possible for a time in the north ahead of the rain. Gales, locally severe developing. Blustery showers returning on Thursday with snow over high ground.
