Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Western and especially northern areas will be mostly cloudy, with some further mainly light rain across the west and far north of Scotland and isolated light showers elsewhere. Southern and eastern areas will stay mostly dry with the best of the sunny spells but some areas of cloud as well.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Windy with rain clearing southwards on Thursday then many parts dry although severe gales expected in exposed northern parts with gusts 70-80mph along with squally rain, sleet and snow showers. Staying quite windy through Friday, a bright start but becoming more cloudy.
