Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

It will start rather cloudy with rain across central and eastern parts, but this will become increasingly confined to eastern Scotland through the day. Otherwise it will be a mostly dry day, with warm sunny spells developing. Some showers are possible anywhere, but these will be very isolated.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

It will stay mostly dry through Tuesday and Wednesday with variable cloud and sunny spells. The best of the sunshine will be in the south and west where it will become warm or very warm through the daytime. It will generally be cloudier in the east, with some showers at times.
