Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Mainly dry with sunny spells for northern Scotland, however elsewhere will be cloudy, with wet and windy spreading quickly eastwards. Sunshine and heavy blustery showers will follow to all parts later though northern England may stay wet . Gales or severe gales in the south with gusts to 60 or 70mph in exposed parts.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Plenty of dry weather with some sunshine on Monday and just a few scattered showers in the west and north. It will turn wet overnight and many places will then be damp on Tuesday, but it will be very mild.
