Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Rain and strong winds will continue to edge westwards during Tuesday. Some locally heavy and thundery downpours are expected across parts of eastern and south-eastern England. Drier and brighter, with sunny spells in the west, where it will feel pleasantly warm in the sunshine.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Unsettled for Wednesday, with cloud and rain at times, but it will be drier and brighter in the north-west. Gradually becoming drier elsewhere to give a settled end to the week, although it will be cloudier in the east, where it will feel cooler with a predominately north-easterly wind.
