Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A dry and bright morning for many with showers across western parts. These soon spreading eastwards, turning heavy and thundery in places. There will be brighter spells too, especially across Scotland and Northern Ireland and these will become more widespread as showers fade to leave a mostly clear and dry evening.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

After a chilly and bright start, wind and rain will soon spread from the northwest, bringing sunshine and heavy showers. Winds will strengthen to turn gusty along exposed coasts, with the best of the weather in the east. Monday will remain windy with showers but with some brightness too.
