Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Further sunshine and scattered showers today, these turning heavy and thundery at times in the south. Meanwhile, further north it will be cloudier, turning windy in northeast Scotland with gales on exposed coasts. Overnight, the showers will ease, especially in the south of the country. Staying windy along northeastern coasts tonight, but turning chilly for all.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Drier for many on Thursday, although turning rather cloudy with the best of the brightness towards the south. Outbreaks of showery rain will affect eastern England, with accompanying strong winds. Further rain in the southeast on Friday, but staying drier elsewhere.
