Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
A grey start in many parts. Most central and northern counties will see showers locally heavy and thundery. More scattered showers are likely across the Midlands, southern England and south Wales with early cloud gradually breaking allowing some bright intervals in places. Warm and humid in the east. Less humid with temperatures closer to normal in the west.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Mainly dry with just occasional sunny spells on Thursday. However, a scattering of showers are likely in the warmest air to the southeast. Mostly fine and rather warm on Friday with more sunshine, although there may still be a few scattered showers.
