++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a grey start for Wales, the south of England and the Midlands with some outbreaks of drizzly rain. This rain will gradually sink south-eastwards through the day, leaving increasingly sunny skies in its place. Further north there will be a mix of sunshine and showers, some of which may be heavy.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

The weather will be rather changeable through the weekend. Saturday will start fine and dry with good sunny spells, but it will turn wet and windy later. Sunday will be brighter with good spells of sunshine and some scattered showers.
