Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Scotland will be cloudy with rain at first but will become drier and brighter during the day, especially in the west. Outbreaks of rain in northern England and Northern Ireland will gradually die out during the day. Wales and central and southern England will have showers, some heavy and thundery, but some brighter spells too. Becoming windy in the north.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Northern and western areas of the UK will be mostly dry on Thursday and Friday with sunny spells developing at times. Southern and eastern parts will be cloudier with rain at times, some of which may become persistent and heavy.
